Indigenous heritage

Passed to Present

Supported by the Research Labs of Archaeology at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill

The Alliance For Heritage Conservation

INHERIT NEWS

The Newsletter of InHerit: Indigenous Heritage Passed to Present

Dear Friends of InHerit,

Welcome to the new InHerit electronic newsletter. In this space, we will be sharing updates on our cultural heritage projects as well as information about upcoming events and related material. In this issue, we provide highlights from our summer activities, which took place as part of the Amplifying Native Voices in North Carolina History project in partnership with the Museum of the Southeast American Indian at UNC-Pembroke. We also have information on two upcoming conferences and a fall festival at Moundville Archaeological Park. Click on underlined words and phrases for links to additional information.

As always, many thanks to your support.

Sincerely,

Diane Slocum, Program Director
Dr. Patricia McAnany, Executive Director

THIS ISSUE:

PAGE 1
Welcome

PAGE 2
Summer Field Trips

PAGE 3
Upcoming Conferences and Events

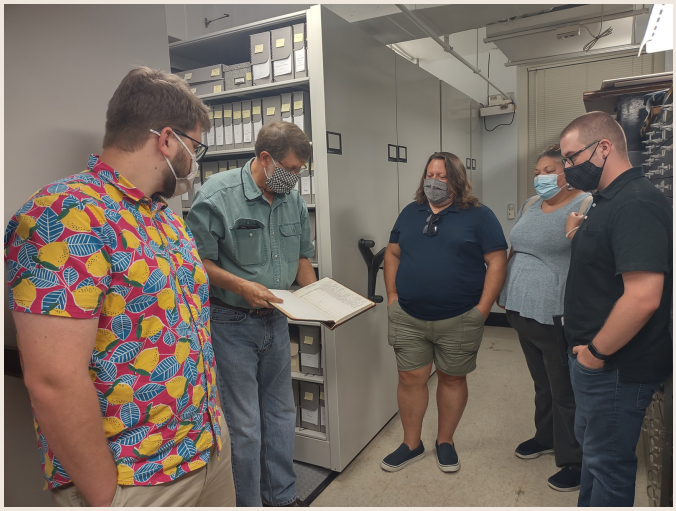
PAGE 4
Local Business Spotlight
InHerit and Alliance Info

Amplifying Native Voices project Summer Fieldtrips

Our collaboration with the Museum of the Southeast American Indian and North Carolina teachers took us on three trips which provided curriculum content for the period between 1491-1830.

June Fieldtrip: Charleston, SC and two 18th century plantations, Drayton Hall (above) and Middleton Place. Photo by C. Colclasure.

July Fieldtrip: Town Creek Indian Mound State Historic Site. Above we learn to play chunkey, a sport historically played by Native peoples in North America. Photo by D. Slocum.



August Fieldtrip: Research Labs of Archaeology (RLA). Viewing documentation of RLA's first recorded artifact. Photo by D. Slocum.

For more information on this project go to this link and scroll down to "current projects".

Z. Smith Reynolds FOUNDATION

North Carolina humanities
All together, amazing.

Upcoming Conferences and Events

The Southeastern Archaeology Conference (SEAC) will be held in Durham, NC from October 24-27.

The 15th Annual Maya at the Playa Conference will take place September 23-26 via zoom. No registration required.

.....

Moundville Native American Festival
October 6-9
festival.museum.ua.edu
Moundville Archaeological Park, Alabama

We give a special thanks to the Society for Anthropology Students Diversity Committee at UNC-Chapel Hill for inspiring this newsletter format.

Alliance Board

Patricia A. McAnany
InHerit/Alliance Director
Diane Slocum
InHerit/Alliance Program Director

Chairperson
Alicia Ebbitt McGill
Vice Chair
Florence Peacock
Secretary
Barbara Arroyo
Treasurer
Jim Charton
Boardmembers
Nancy Fields
Khristin Montes
Bryan Giemza

Lumbee-owned Business Spotlight:

Shugg's

in Pembroke, NC, catered our lunch at Town Creek

Interested in Supporting InHerit?

100% of your donations support our mission to work together to unearth hidden histories, document and share untold stories, and conserve the material remains of the past to empower people to reshape cultural narratives and affect positive social change.

- Donation links are available at our website and Facebook page.
- You may also support InHerit through AmazonSmile by inserting this link https://smile.amazon.com/ch/27-3995217 when shopping.

Your generous donations to our 501(c)3 partner, the Alliance for Heritage Conservation are tax-deductible.

InHerit is a proud partner of The Alliance for Heritage Conservation, a registered 501(c)3. Correspondence can be addressed to P.O. Box 941, Chapel Hill, NC 27514, or to inherit.p2p.email@gmail.com. Please visit our website at in-herit.org/en for further information.