Primary Resources on Native Gardening and Farming

This collection of primary image sources illustrate many of the foodways practiced by native peoples at the time of contact with the English in the Carolinas. This collection features watercolor paintings executed by John White, one of the leaders of the Roanoke expedition and a trained artist.
The barking of their sleds over the flame of fire.